

If Blair Witch had you cowering under your seats, RWD will have you face-first in sofa cushions.

Matt Stuertz's unique found footage spooker hits VOD October 14 from Osiris Entertainment. A unique horror sci-fi about two men who go searching for ghosts, RWD hails from acclaimed horror filmmaker Matt Stuertz (Tonight She Comes) and co-writer/co-star Adam Hartley.

Chris Lipscomb (Adam Hartley) and Ricky Nicolas (Stuertz) are the stars and cameramen of the "popular" paranormal reality series "Ghost Goofs." In their final episode, they plan to journey deep into the legendary Brut Woods in search of a malevolent and murderous spirit that has haunted the grounds for the past century. But when they arrive, they find something much worse... themselves.
